Bizarre twist in Mid-East war

IRAN'S MAD MULLAHS ARE SECRET ONE DIRECTION FANS

By BRAD CHADWICK

IRAN'S crazed mullahs have been exposed as secret ONE DIRECTION fans – and Louis Tomlinson is their favourite!

The shock development came to light after Louis was unwittingly used in the Tehran regime's twisted propaganda.

Iranian state TV shared footage it claimed showed "Israelis panicking" while under attack from missiles – but the clip was of excited Tomlinson fans rushing for a glimpse of their idol.

Stabbing at church was 'terror act'

AUSTRALIAN police have declared Monday's stabbing at a Sydney church a religiously motivated "terrorist act".

A 16-year-old boy was arrested after Bishop Mar Mari Emmanuel (above), priest Father Isaac Royel and churchgoers were attacked during mass at the Assyrian Christ The Good Shepherd Church.

At least four people suffered "non-life-threatening" injuries, police say. The attacker was also hurt.

The incident was captured on a church livestream and quickly triggered unrest in the suburb of Wakeley.

Australian police define terror offences as being ideologically motivated.

Investigations are still underway, but they said they are satisfied this is a case of religious extremism.

Authorities have not revealed the religion of the alleged attacker.

UK jobless at 6-month high

BRITAIN'S unemployment rate has risen by more than expected and earnings growth has eased back again in the latest sign that economic uncertainty is affecting the UK jobs market.

The Office for National Statistics said the jobless rate jumped to 4.2% in the three months to February – the highest level for nearly six months and up from 3.9% in the three months to January.

Figures also showed regular wages growth – excluding bonuses – falling back once again, to 6% in the three months to February.

Terrible new blow for The Donald... TRUSSY BACKS TRUMP!

LIZ Truss has endorsed Donald Trump to win this year's US presidential election, saying the "world was safer" when he was in the White House.

The UK's disaster-prone shortest-serving PM said the world was "on the cusp of very, very strong conflict" and needed "a strong America more than ever".

Her comments came as the first of Mr Trump's four criminal trials began in New York.

Trump is the presumptive Republican nominee for November's election.

Ms Truss, who recently spoke at a pro-Trump conference in the US, said the West's "opponents feared the Trump presidency more" than the Democrats under Joe Biden.

Ms Truss said Trump was more aggressive towards Iran and China and also praised his support for Ukraine, approving the sale of anti-tank Javelin missiles, despite his Republican allies' recent attempts to block military aid to the country.

"I'm not saying that I agree with absolutely everything he's ever said," Ms Truss said.

But she added: "I do agree that under Donald Trump when he was President of the United States, the world was safer."

A Trump campaign source said: "Truss?! That's the last thing we need at this stage of the game."

World waits for Israel's response to Iran attack

MIDDLE EAST ON THE BRINK (...AS USUAL)

ISRAEL has vowed that it will respond to Iran's unprecedented drone and missile attack, despite Western calls for calm, as the Middle East teeters on the edge of all-out war.

Army Chief of Staff Lt Gen Herzli Halevi said that Israel is still considering what steps it will take, but was unequivocal as he declared that the Iranian bombardment of his country on April 13 "will be met with a response".

Leaks from Israel's war cabinet reportedly suggested that a "painful" revenge strike on Iran is being planned that will not cause mass casualties, although some hardliners have demanded that PM Benjamin Netanyahu shows that it is willing to "go berserk".

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

As Mr Netanyahu continues to debate what retaliation it will unleash, British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak used a phone call with the Israeli premier yesterday to urge him to show "restraint".

But leading voices in defence, including respected former minister Ben Wallace, have urged Western leaders to support Israel in its response to "bullies" like Iran, and to even stand up to the regime themselves if necessary.

"Everybody agrees that Israel must respond," an Israeli official told The Washington Post.

"How to respond, and when to respond, is the question."

It comes as the United Nations nuclear watchdog chief expressed concerns on Monday on Israel potentially targeting Iranian nuclear facilities, as he announced inspections paused on Sunday and Monday would resume nonetheless.

STILL CONSIDERING: Israel's war cabinet

Nations nuclear watchdog chief expressed concerns on Monday on Israel potentially targeting Iranian nuclear facilities, as he announced inspections paused on Sunday and Monday would resume nonetheless.

International Atomic Energy Agency Director General Rafael Grossi said Iran closed its nuclear facilities temporarily over "security considerations" and that while they reopened on Monday, he kept IAEA inspectors away "until we see that the situation is completely calm".

When asked about the possibility of an Israel strike on Iranian nuclear facilities, Mr Grossi said: "We are always concerned about this possibility," as he also urged "extreme restraint".

Sir Ed: I was lied to over Post Office

LIBERAL Democrat leader Sir Ed Davey says he is "sorry" for not meeting campaigner Alan Bates after receiving his initial letter regarding the Horizon IT scandal while he was serving as Post Office minister.

Sir Ed (above) was advised in 2010 to meet Mr Bates to avoid bad publicity over the scandal.

During an interview yesterday, he also admitted feeling "embarrassed" at not realising the issues with the Horizon systems.

He said: "I'm sorry for two things. I'm sorry that I didn't see Mr Bates after his first letter – it took me five months to see him, although I was the first Post Office minister to see him."

"Unfortunately, we were lied to. When people lie on such an industrial scale, it's very difficult."

"I didn't see through the lies and I'm sorry about that. It really is very frustrating that I was lied to."

Sir Ed was postal affairs minister in David Cameron's coalition government from 2010-12.

Law to stop 'deepfakes'

THE creation of sexually explicit "deepfake" images is to be made a criminal offence in England and Wales under a new law.

Under the legislation, anyone making explicit images of an adult without their consent will face a criminal record and unlimited fine.

It will apply regardless of whether the creator of an image intended to share it, the Ministry of Justice said.

And if the image is then shared more widely, they could face jail.

A deepfake is an image or video that has been digitally altered with Artificial Intelligence to replace the face of one person with that of another.

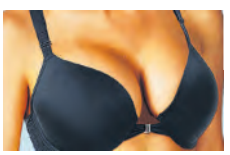

The new law will be introduced as an amendment to the Criminal Justice Bill.

VAT on bras is sexist, docs say AXE THE TIT TAX!

BRAS are a basic necessity and should not be subject to VAT, according to radiographers. Diagnostic radiographers who carry out X-rays, MRI and CT scans, are set to argue that the tax disproportionately affects women and could be considered discriminatory under the Equality Act. They say musculoskeletal problems, which can lead to individuals having time off work, can be caused by poorly-fitted bras. Proposing the motion yesterday during their three-day annual conference in Leeds, delegates were told: "Those who are wearing a bra size D or above often get backaches, aching shoulders and neck pain, because of the weight of their breasts. "Wearing a good-quality, well-fitted bra could alleviate some of these issues, and reduce time off sick for musculoskeletal issues. "The imposition of VAT on bras disproportionately affects women. Taxing bras could be considered discriminatory."

I'd love to have a play on those funbags!

BIG-boobed Emily Ratajkowski took to Instagram to show off her knockers and slender figure in a see-through black bra.

The 32-year-old model was glowing as she donned a tiny black sheer bra that bared all as she posed sitting on the floor.

In some photos she even posed with her faithful hound Colombo, and captioned the set of photos: "At home."

The post was a huge hit, as one Instagram commenter penned: "Flawless beauty," while another said, "My eyes are on that necklace."

But when the pictures were republished on the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail, readers were a LOT cruder in their comments.

One wrote: "I'd love to have a play on those funbags!"

and then maybe spunk all over her amazing breasts and then watch in delight as the star rubbed his leavings into her perfect skin.

Last night a pal of the beauty said: "Emily poses online in her smalls to advance the cause of women, not to provide any kind of fantasy material for Daily Mail readers."

"Really!" Emily split from her ex-husband Sebastian Bear-McClard in July 2022 after four years of marriage and the birth of their son, Sylvester Apollo, now three.

Fraudsters plunder £1m from Swifties

MORE than £1 million could already have been lost in the UK to fraudsters pretending to offer Taylor Swift concert tickets.

Lloyds Bank has issued a warning to fans, saying that more than 600 customers have come forward so far to report being scammed.

The average amount lost by each victim was £332, though in some cases the loss was more than £1,000, Lloyds said.

As the figures are based solely on Lloyds Bank's own customer data, it estimates that across the UK there are likely to have been at least 3,000 victims since tickets went on sale, with over £1 million being lost to fraudsters so far.

Fans aged 25 to 34 who are trying to get their hands on sold-out tickets are most likely to be targeted, with many of the scams originating on social media, Lloyds warned.

hate crime law

SCOTLAND'S First Minister has insisted people taking the piss have ruined his stupid new hate crime laws.

The Hate Crime and Public Order (Scotland) Act came into force on April 1, sparking a deluge of complaints, with almost 3,500 on the first day, prompting concerns about police being overwhelmed.

By the end of the first week, more than 7,000 complaints had been made online but just 240 hate crimes had been recorded along with 30 non-crime hate incidents.

However, Mr Yousaf (above) said the legislation had been misused, adding: "What we have seen with the introduction of the Hate Crime Act, in the first few days in particular, was a series of bad faith actors who decided to put in vexatious complaints in order to try to waste police time – which is a pretty serious matter."

Mr Yousaf said there were almost 7,000 reports of hate crime in the 2021-22 financial year and the new legislation is designed to "safeguard" minorities.

Opponents of the Act say it could have a bad effect on free speech.

prayer fight

A MUSLIM student at a London school has lost a High Court challenge against its ban on prayer rituals.

Michaela Community School in Brent – once dubbed Britain's strictest – was taken to court by the pupil over a policy said to amount to a prayer ban.

The student at the school, founded by controversial head teacher Katharine Birbalsingh, said the policy was discriminatory.

She argued the school's stance on prayer unlawfully breached her right to religious freedom.

The secondary school previously told the High Court that allowing prayer rituals risked "undermining inclusion" between pupils.

About half the school's roughly 700 pupils are Muslim, the court previously heard.

Mr Justice Linden rejected the student's claim in a judgment delivered on Tuesday morning.

Ms Birbalsingh, a former government social mobility tsar, previously said the school was a "happy and respectful" place.

IRAN'S mullahs have been exposed as secret ONE DIRECTION fans after band member Louis Tomlinson was unwittingly used in the Islamist regime's propaganda.

Iranian state TV shared footage it claimed showed "Israelis panicking" while under attack from missiles and drones at the weekend.

But the video clip was of Louis Tomlinson fans rushing for a glimpse of their idol.

The Islamic Republic of Iran News Network (IRINN) – the mullahs' official mouthpiece – shared the footage "claiming that it showed panicking Israelis amid the ... Iranian attack", according to Niko Kelbækiani, a fact-checker for BBC Monitoring.

"In fact, it shows Louis Tomlinson fans near Four Seasons Hotel in Buenos Aires, Argentina last week," fellow BBC fact-checker Shayan Sardarizadeh said of the 32-year-old singer and one-time Harry Styles bandmate.

in supergroup One Direction.

The footage, also shared by numerous online influencers including Yank far-right stirrer Jackson Hinkle, was just one of a number aired by Iran's state TV claiming to show scenes of devastation from the weekend's air strikes, despite Israel shooting down around 99% of the drones and missiles fired at the Jewish state.

Another clip that IRINN claimed to be the fiery aftermath of a missile strike on Israel was actually from a February forest fire in Chile.

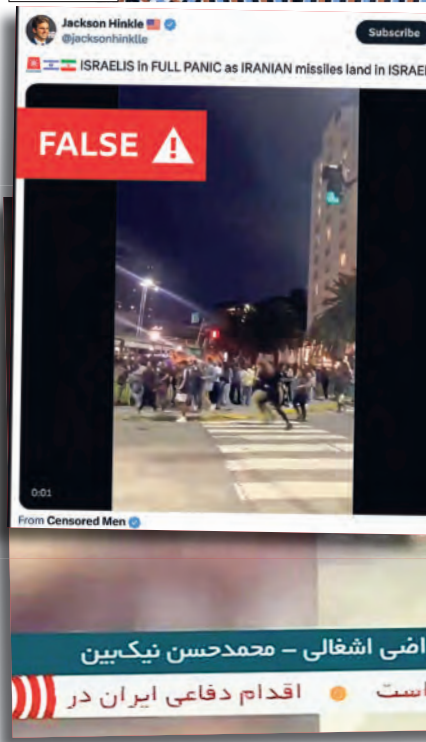

Fake

The flawed Iranian propaganda report suggested that the Nevatim air base in the Negev desert exploded in a fireball, despite Israeli news sources reporting negligible impact from the attack.

Having their fake news exposed is another blow to the mullahs – led by chief headbanger Ali Khamenei – just days after their rocket attack on the Jewish state was thwarted.

An intelligence source said: "Louis will no doubt be horrified to find out that his fans are being used by the Iranian regime for their twisted propaganda purposes."

"But it also shows that the turbaned halfwits in Tehran are pretty shit at the fake news game – by using footage that can so easily be shown to be false."

Mum left kids home alone to go on a cruise

A SCUMMY mummy was arrested after she abandoned her two young kids to go on a cruise – leaving the children home alone for nearly a week.

Lakesha Williams, 29 (above), was hit with two charges of child endangerment after officers found her eight-year-old and six-year-old alone in their high-rise flat complex in Houston, Texas, with no adult supervision.

Williams left her kids to take her solo holiday on April 4 and returned the night of April 10.

She was arrested the following day.

Concerned neighbours rang emergency services after worrying about the siblings' welfare.

The neighbours saw Williams leaving the building with luggage then noticed she failed to come home after several days.

Deputies visited the apartment on April 9 and found the two kids alone in the apartment, which was trashed with rubbish with food all over the floor and a "potent smell of urine".

The children, who are now in care with an aunt, said their mum left to go on a cruise and was checking on them using a camera in the flat and via texts.

Cancer risk in seafood

THE fish-heavy so-called Mediterranean diet – which is supposed to help you live forever – will kill you STONE DEAD.

People who frequently eat seafood might have an increased risk of exposure to cancer-causing "forever chemicals" food boffins claimed.

Megan Romano, an associate professor of epidemiology at Dartmouth's Geisel School of Medicine, said: "Our recommendation isn't to not eat seafood – it's a great source of lean protein and omega fatty acids."

"But it also is a potentially underestimated source of forever chemical exposure in humans."

While researchers aren't exactly sure how marine life is exposed to forever chemicals, they suspect that creatures such as lobsters and shrimp, which both feed on the seabed, are smaller, and live closer to the coast, could be more susceptible than larger fish – like tuna – which swim in the open ocean.

But larger fish are not immune, as they eat smaller fish that may contain these chemicals in higher concentrations.

AN ex-chiropractor killed an Elvis impersonator by chloroforming him during a frenzied bumming session.

Ronald G. Rayher, 69, bound and then restrained Thomas Krider, 40, before dosing him with the heavily-regulated anaesthetic chloroform "more than one time", according to court documents.

Four days later, Rayher, of Milton, went to the Saratoga County Sheriff's Office in New York to report a dead man in the basement of his home, according to Undersheriff Jeffrey Brown.

Authorities have since charged retired Rayher of manslaughter and evidence tampering for allegedly removing Krider's personal things from the crime scene.

Sheriff's deputies were trying to figure out where Rayher got the chloroform from.

He and Krider – who worked under the stage name TJ Greene – had known each other for many years, and the sexual encounter and

A MAN pulled his own head off when he hanged himself from a bridge, police believe.

The grisly theory emerged after a headless corpse was dragged from the water in Jamaica Bay, New York.

The unidentified remains were found just before 9pm on Friday and a rope was found hanging from the Joseph P. Addabbo Memorial Bridge about 1,000 feet away, cops said.

It wasn't immediately clear how the man died, but the "theory is that he hanged himself" and the force of the drop ripped the man's head from his body, which then fell into the water.

chloroform use appear to be consensual, the undersheriff said.

Krider, of Ticonderoga, had been missing for several days. His wife of 16 years, Heidi Greene, 42, had reported him missing, while friends spread word of his disappearance on social media.

Krider was also a Star Trek superfan with ties to the Star Trek Tour in Ticonderoga, which includes recreated sets of the USS Enterprise's bridge.

"He was a sci-fi geek and nerd," Greene said.

"He was into so many things... he even got a tattoo sleeve on his arm of just He-Man and She-Ra characters."

Krider had just started working as a guide at the Star Trek tour late last year, his pal James Cawley said.

"We were all looking forward to the summer season and the fun things we had planned," James said.

Rayher was arraigned and ordered to be held at the Saratoga County Jail.

He is due back in court next month.

A NONCE teacher's repeated sex acts with a 15-year-old student came to light when his girlfriend checked his text messages.

Now 29-year-old Kayden Burbank (above) is charged with having an improper relationship between educator and student.

When Burbank's girlfriend confronted him about the texts, he told her they came from one of his 15-year-old students, police confirmed.

She told another person about what she had found out, and that person reported it to the Cypress-Fairbanks Independent School District Police Department in Texas.

The officer and a child welfare specialist spoke with the girl and learned her teacher told her on February 7 he liked her, and he gave her his number a few weeks later, police said in the report.

He began engaging in sex acts with her, in one instance calling her out of class to meet him in an empty classroom, police said.

On March 25, the two also engaged in sex acts at a hotel.

Burbank has since resigned as a teacher.

THE wife of a former medical school morgue manager has pleaded guilty after shipping stolen human body parts to buyers nationwide.

Denise Lodge, 64, pleaded guilty in the US District Court in the Middle District of Pennsylvania to a charge of interstate transportation of stolen goods.

Prosecutors said the scheme also involved an Arkansas mortuary employee who sold body parts on Facebook for nearly £9,000 and a Massachusetts store owner who bought a human skull to create a killer clown-style doll she later shared on Insta.

They announced the charges against Lodge, her husband Cedric Lodge – former morgue manager at posh Harvard University medical school – and five others last year, and claimed Mrs Lodge had negotiated online sales of human remains between 2018 and 2020.

Two dozen hands, two feet, nine spines, portions of skulls, five dissected human faces and two dissected heads – which had been donated to Harvard – were among the items sold.

A SCHEMING teacher offered teenage runaways a place to stay – then forced them into prostitution.

Kedria Grigsby, 42, who worked at Klein Cain High School in Klein, Texas, has been charged with child trafficking and compelling prostitution of juveniles, Harris County Sheriff Ed Gonzalez said.

She worked with her 21-year-old son, Roger Magee, to help build a "prostitution enterprise," according to prosecutors.

"Grigsby recruited troubled juveniles from local high schools by offering them a place to stay, which would be a hotel," Mr Gonzalez said.

"Additional teen victims have come forward stating that Grigsby was also attempting to recruit them while attending school."

Her arrest came nearly two years after her son was arrested on similar charges of child trafficking, sexual assault and compelling prostitution.

Investigators said they found text messages between the pair – as well others with three alleged victims, ages 15, 16 and 17 – discussing prostitution payments being made with Zelle.

The teacher also allegedly paid for a motel room, where an officer witnessed one of the alleged victims walk in and later run out.

The girl then ran to Grigsby's car, in which at least one other alleged victim was sat, officials said.

Grigsby was ordered to not contact any of the alleged victims and could have no unsupervised interactions with minors.

She was first hired by the Klein school district for the 2019-20 school year, and "passed a state background check at the time," a spokesperson for the district said, adding that Grigsby had been "relieved of her teaching duties".

Parents were informed later that day that Grigsby had been arrested, when Klein ISD officials sent out an official letter.

Residents strip thieves naked

FED-up residents took matters into their own hands after they busted two men they accused of stealing.

The suspects were caught by a group of neighbours after they were spotted trying to steal a motorcycle in the Mexican municipality of Cuauacán.

Instead of calling the police, the group stripped the men naked and forced them to walk barefoot down the street in Tierra y Libertad.

One of the suspects was seen carrying a sign covering his chest and genitals that read: "This happened to me for stealing".

The suspects were later turned over to local cops, who arrested them.

A MAN walked into a ladies' gym locker room completely naked, claiming he identified as a woman – and then started furiously wanking.

He was later arrested on charges of indecent exposure and indecency and booked into the Gaston County jail in North Carolina with his online inmate entry identifying him as a male.

Miller's arrest came after an alarmed woman at the Gastonia Planet Fitness called cops to report there was a naked man in the ladies' locker room.

Planet Fitness later issued a statement reading: "The safety of our staff and members is our top priority, and we have zero tolerance for harassment of any kind in our clubs. We took immediate action, including notifying and working with law enforcement."

IT'S NATIONAL BANANA DAY...

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

NATIONAL Banana Day is upon us again!

Bananas are believed to have originated in Southeast Asia and India, then gradually made their way west by Arab conquerors in 327BC, and eventually ended up in Europe.

By the 1870s, bananas made their way to the Caribbean via various missionaries, where the bananas then became a lucrative crop.

Exotic

As they became more affordable and less exotic, bananas were added to special dishes like the banana split, or used in baking recipes like banana bread.

And scientists agree, there is nothing sexier than watching a lady eat a banana – well, apart from seeing her shoving one up her fanny!

So here are FIVE pages of babes wrapping their lips around a banana...

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I am watching a lot of lesbian porn right now'

I HAVE always thought of myself as being straight but recently I've been lusting after some lady loving.

I keep noticing beautiful women in the street and fantasising about kissing their soft lips.

And caressing their boobs... I'm mesmerised by a big pair!

I'm also watching a lot of lesbian porn these days and curvy brunettes with peachy bums who look a bit filthy – maybe with some tattoos – do it for me.

Threesome

I have a boyfriend and I told him about my naughty thoughts. He's suggested a threesome, so he gets to see me get it on with a girl.

That would be super hot. I'm considering looking for a girl to invite into the bedroom on dating apps.

And I've just got a new Jacuzzi in the garden... I'd love for the three of us to get steamy in there!

I get excited thinking about it... like it's going to be a bit like being in a porn film!

Country star's daughter faces hookering rap

THE daughter of country music legend Wynonna Judd faces prostitution charges after flashing her breasts on a busy road junction while holding a "ride for a ride" sign after a suspected drug-induced frenzy.

As Sunday Sport reported at the weekend, Grace Pauline Kelley (above), the troubled 27-year-old daughter of the famed vocalist, was picked up April 5 after exposing herself at the crossroads of Interstate 65 and Highway 14 in Millbrook, Alabama.

She was initially charged with indecent exposure and obstructing governmental operations, but now authorities have hit her with a soliciting charge, too. Police received calls about the troubled woman's behaviour in public and offered her the chance to go home without incident.

They found the scantily-clad Kelley strolling down the highway near a Walmart carrying her explicit sign.

"She argued with us about the legality of what she was doing, and that it was not illegal for her to offer herself in exchange for rides," Millbrook Police Chief PK Johnson said.

Council use pill to tackle rat numbers

NEW York is set to put rats on the PILL, as the Big Apple sinks under a tidal wave of vermin.

City Council member Shaun Abreu has proposed a rat birth control programme jointly run by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and the Department of Sanitation – in the latest attempt to quell the plague.

Abreu, who helms the Committee on Sanitation and Solid Waste Management, said: "ContraPest pellets would work together with the city's broader push to fight rats."

"We believe we need to take a shock-and-awe approach to the rat problem by throwing everything we have at it."

The contraceptives would be deployed in rat mitigation zones that cover at least 10 city blocks.

The pellets, which have an active ingredient called "triptolide" in them, will sterilize both male and female rats and impact their ovarian function and sperm cell production.

COUNCIL MAN QUIT AFTER EATING HIS OWN SH*T

Maya, she's hot!

● MAYA Jama showed off her sensational figure as she enjoyed some downtime by her hotel pool in California ahead of the Coachella festival. The TV presenter, 29, took to Insta to flaunt her incredible figure in a barely-there bikini. She had her toned midriff on full display as she struck up a pose in her hotel bathroom and showed off her big boobs. A follower said: "I'm no fan of music festivals but I'd make an exception in Maya's case if I got to watch her in a Portalo."

LEAKED PICS AND VIDEOS: Daniel Gómez del Barrio

A WARPED left-wing town councillor has resigned from his position after photos emerged of him eating his own PLOP.

Daniel Gómez del Barrio served on the council for Illescas, a small town of around 30,000 people just south of Madrid, Spain.

He represented PSOE, the main left-wing party in Spain, whose leader is currently the Prime Minister.

In mid February, photos and videos of Gómez were shared that he had posted on social media accounts and pornographic websites. In one video, the councillor, who is in his late twenties, is seemingly naked on the floor and eating his own faeces.

The hard-left politician was offering himself up for sexual use, and described himself as wanting to be "exposed, humiliated, degraded".

He also described his desire to "eat cocks, be a whore, and be used as a urinal" while referring to himself as a "sexual slave".

Gómez reported the leaking of the photos and videos to the police, who investigated the matter.

He attended the council's February meeting "with total normality", where the leaks were only a "residual issue", a source said.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

However, on March 22, more photographs of the councillor began to spread around the town during traditional Palm Sunday celebrations, and "nothing else was talked about" by the residents of the small community.

A source suggested that further images of Gómez were available on the internet, where he was naked and his official council ID was also allegedly visible.

On March 27, Gómez was forced to resign, and was dismissed from his position as the town council's head of youth, children and families by Mayor José Manuel Tofiño.

Since his resignation, the young councillor has left his family home in the town where he lived with his parents. His dad, a former police officer, retired the same week in February that the photos and videos were initially leaked.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Win or lose, the lawyers get paid

WHAT does a "public inquiry" actually do?

Mistakes, it seems, can't just happen and be rectified anymore. Nor will apologies be offered – and if they were, they would not be accepted.

Because somewhere on the sidelines of anything anywhere will be someone with a law degree, greasy hair, a low-grade BMW, a crap suit, and a chip on his shoulder.

And he'll be happy to charge you £300-an-hour for the benefit of knowing everything you knew already, because along with his degree he's got rampant short man syndrome and awful coffee breath.

"Discovering" stuff we already know via the miracle of the "public inquiry" is manna from heaven for lawyers.

As with everything they do, it's always the same – win or lose, the lawyer gets paid.

Take the army of legals who are now gathering after the publication of the Cass review into NHS – "envy of the (third) world!" – treatment of children claiming to be trans.

The extensive 400-page report followed a four-year, taxpayer-funded investigation.

And what did it tell us?

Revelation

Steady yourselves, now, because this is a massive revelation...

They concluded that little boys will never be little girls.

Of course they can wear dresses. Put makeup on. Have their bits chopped off. Squeal.

It's like acting, with all the luvvie supporters, but none of their money. And good luck to them – it can't be easy.

But like it or not, as the Cass review says quite clearly, they'll still always be male, because that's down to this awkward little thing called "nature".

Like the overwhelmingly vast, screaming, maddened most of us already knew.

And that's the point.

Is this finally the first sign of the worm turning?

Has Britain – leading the world as ever – been the first to prise open the shuttered window of "progressive" ideology?

Because we should strike while the iron's hot, don't you think?

As the chicks with dicks brigade skulk back into obscurity, what about the eco-loons who have mistakenly been led to believe that they rule the roost lately?

AUTHOR:
Hilary Cass
with her review

Apart from headlines and television coverage – exactly what they want – whatever happens to them?

A fine here or there. A suspended prison sentence that never seems to matter when they reappear in court on another, similar charge.

And then they're back out doing it all again, much to the yelping joy of their friends in Cambridge who enjoy a pint of coconut milk with their main course of blistering piousness and a side order of woke.

We're all fed up of this shit now, aren't we?

They're like yapping dogs, or other people's kids.

Slap

Rather than putting them out in the garden, or giving them a gentle slap, we indulged them instead.

Then, because we gave an inch, they took a mile.

And right behind them was an army of human rights lawyers who don't believe a word of any of that rubbish but know there's an easy buck to be made from it.

There should, by rights, be a public inquiry into public inquiries.

But they are all run by lawyers who aren't going to deliberately shoot themselves in the foot.

Instead, then, expect the tiresome "lessons have been learned" shite.

Never mind the mutilated children, the broken families, the phenomenon of the disturbing number of teens wanting their bits removed.

None of that matters.

As long as the lawyers get paid.

'Sexy as hell'
trans mayor
faces the axe

A TRANNY mayor is facing the boot from office and he's blaming "transphobia" rather than his own failings.

Raúl Ureña, 26 (above), was elected mayor of the border town of Calexico in California with 70% of the vote in 2020, before then coming out as "transgender and gender fluid" following his re-election in 2022.

The mayor changed his typical work attire of a suit and tie for low-cut dresses which show off his hairy chest, proudly saying he looks "sexy as hell".

While turning many heads with the stark transformation, Ureña also sparked backlash as crime ran rampant in the town and many homeless encampments sprang up in the area — with human faeces left on pavements.

The mayor and his and key ally, City Councilman Gilberto Manzanarez, face a recall vote for leaving the downtown a crime-ridden eyesore.

However, Ureña blames it on "tried and tested, predictable transphobia".

Ex-Calexico Mayor Maritz Hurtado, who is leading the campaign to oust Ureña and Manzanarez, said supporters of the recall vote just want to hold the pair accountable for their decisions.

Mr Hurtado, 58, said: "We're losing business because people do not want to come here, as it's disgusting."

Mother sues Goofy over Disney injury

GOOFY is being sued by a compo-chasing Yank.

The Disney favourite is being chased through the courts by a Disneyland guest who claims she was "permanently injured" when an actor dressed as the character fell on her during a trip to the park.

Katrina Griffin was at Disney California Adventure Park with her daughter in April 2022 when the "traumatic" experience occurred.

Griffin had bent over to tie her daughter's shoe when the Goofy character then "walked directly" into her, causing her to topple onto the "hard cement".

The lawsuit claims the mascot then fell onto Ms Griffin "with all of his body weight".

Griffin claims she experienced "severe, traumatic, debilitating, and permanent injuries that necessitated significant medical care" after the accident.

AS EX-PRESIDENT

COVER-UP...

A BUSTY teacher was caught stark naked in the back of a car – with a randy teenage pupil hanging out the back of her!

Erin Ward, 45, was scooped up after she was found in the buff with a 17-year-old male student from the high school in Omaha, Nebraska, where she taught, according to the Douglas County Sheriff's department.

Police caught up with the married miss after receiving a call from prodnoses about a suspicious car parked down a dead-end lane at around 3am.

Deputies found two people in the backseat, with the lad close to the vinegar strokes.

The panicked teen scrambled to the front seat and then took off driving.

A short distance away, he crashed the car before running into the night in just his underpants.

Ward remained at the scene dressing, in the back of the car.

She then confessed to having sex with the boy and reportedly remonstrated with the officers for spoiling a "hot fk".

She had an ID from Omaha Public Schools with her, and admitted to working as a supply teacher at various schools including Burke High School, where the boy was later identified as a student.

He was found later that night hiding in a garden wearing only his underwear.

The car they were found in belonged to Ward and her husband.

Ward has since been charged with sexual abuse by a school employee.

TRUMP'S BOOST FOR STORMY'S FANNY!

DONALD Trump's criminal trial in New York is great news for porn star Stormy Daniels.

Because online searches for the busty stunna have surged 200% – leading to a record number of sign-ups to her raunchy OnlyFans page.

Mr Trump denies falsifying business records to conceal a hush-money payment to Stormy just ahead of the 2016 election, which he won.

Sixty of 96 potential jurors were quick to say they could not be impartial after proceedings began. Jury selection could take up to two weeks.

Those who were not ruled out straight away on the first day were asked multiple questions, including about their news habits.

"I just couldn't do it," one prospective juror was heard saying as she left court on Monday.

The dismissals were an indication of how challenging it could be to find a group of 12 impartial jurors.

The Manhattan District Attorney's Office alleges that Mr Trump directed his former attorney, Michael Cohen, to pay Ms Daniels $130,000 (£104,000) in exchange for her silence about an alleged sexual encounter the former president denies took place.

Prosecutors say he did so to "unlawfully influence" the 2016 election. Mr Trump has pleaded not guilty.

THE ULTIMATE GIRLFRIEND EXPERIENCE!

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Tess,

I MET this gorgeous blonde in her early 30s at a bar a few months ago and we really hit it off.

I'm 19 and find older women really attractive and she noticed the almost instant bulge in my pants.

We went back to her place and she wasted no time getting her kit off to reveal her cracking body.

I stripped and started to suck on her 34Ds. She then sucked me off to completion.

After that she lay down on the bed and I peeled off her wet knickers and feasted on her pussy juice. She loved it as I tongued her clit.

By then I was rock-hard again and she ordered me to bone her doggy-style. I soon had her orgasming.

I've seen her a number of times since and really like her, but she's told me she only wants sex. What can I do?

JB, Norfolk

Tess says...

ENJOY the sex or find a girl your own age.

Dear Tess,

IN the last six months my formerly frigid wife has turned into an absolute sex maniac.

I don't know how or why, but I'm not complaining. She even likes it when I wear her stockings and suspenders while I give her one.

And when she mentioned she'd like to try anal sex for the first time a few weeks back, I was well up for it.

So after lots and lots of foreplay - using some lube on my gentle fingers around her ringpiece - I got her on all fours and started teasing her arse with my cock.

But then she suddenly told me to stop. She explained she wanted to take ME up the arse instead and reached under the bed for a huge black strap-on dildo.

I told her to fk off - but she's not let me near her since.

What can I do?

KD, Devon

Tess says...

BE patient. If she's really turned into a nympho, she'll soon be begging you for some action.

I gave boss a hard time - now she's giving me a harder time!

Dear Tess,

I'VE fancied my boss at work for ages. She's 42 and a cracking blonde with huge tits.

I'd never really had the chance to do anything about it - until my big opportunity finally came last Christmas.

She told me I needed to go with her to a meeting at head office, which meant quite a long drive and we would be staying the night at a hotel.

We headed for the bar, as the firm was paying, and as she got more pissed she started opening up to me about her sex life.

She told me what she and her boyfriend got up to and I was soon rock-hard.

We went back to my room after a long, boozy session and then emptied the mini-bar as well.

She told me she wanted me to fk her hard and then took off her blouse and skirt.

I soon had her knickers off and my tongue in her love-hole.

After making her juices explode, I launched my knob into her.

At the moment of orgasm, she promised me promotion.

We've been back at work a while now, but not once has she referred to it.

What should I do?

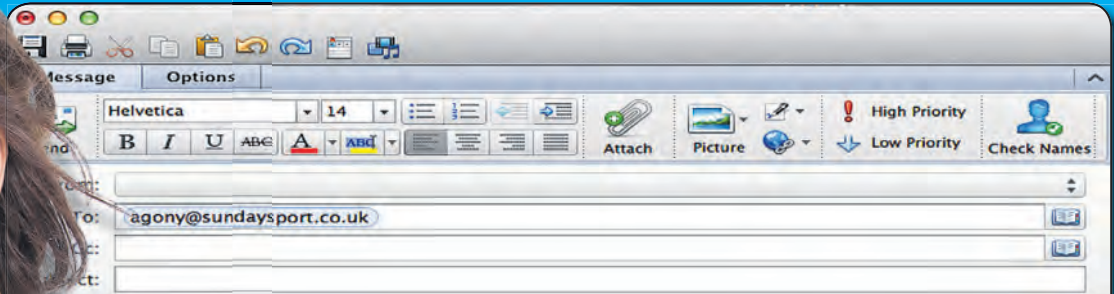

AJ, Manchester

Tess says...

I'D think twice about complaining, as she would probably sack you.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week TESS O'REILLY has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Steamy sex tapes are all I have left of ex

Dear Tess,

MY fiancée and I split up recently after being together for a couple of years.

We had an adventurous sex life and loved trying all sorts of different positions and adult toys.

And we made some really explicit homemade sex tapes together.

One time we set up the HD cam at the bottom of the bed and got stripped.

I started licking her pussy and sucking at her clitoris. Then I sucked her rock-hard nipples until she was almost screaming at me to fk her.

Spurt

But I made her climax with my mouth before she got onto her hands and knees and gave me a hard, fast blowjob.

She traced her tongue around my helmet and gave me a deep throat gobble – it was fantastic.

I didn't want to spurt my load too soon, so I entered her and she swung her legs over my shoulders.

Several thrusts later we both came and were shouting and screaming the place down.

After a few glasses of wine, we were ready to go again and set the camera to record again.

She was soon straddling me and I thrust my knob in her. She bobbed up and down on me as I tweaked her erect nips.

Then she demanded I gave it to her doggy-style until we both came.

Our session lasted more than an hour and we had it all recorded.

But later that month, we had a huge row and she walked out on me and moved all her stuff out.

Now she wants me to destroy the sex tapes, but it turns me on to watch them and now I'm on my own they are all I have to wank over.

Do you think I need to pass them on to her or should I keep hold of them?

RD, west Midlands

Dear Tess,

I ABSOLUTELY love the smell of pussy first thing in the morning.

Every single day I get the wife to wake me up by sitting on my face to give her a good licking.

I always get my tongue right into her love-hole while I play with her clitty and finger her bum.

She then returns the favour by giving me an expert blowjob before I take her doggy-style.

Problem is, she now wants to wake me up by sucking on my cock first and I'm just not happy about it.

What should I do?

FK, Teesside

Tess says...

GET rid... or they might come back to haunt both of you.

Tess says...

ARE you for real?

My snake charmer is now HISStory!

Dear Tess,

I WORK in a pet shop and the week before we went into lockdown a man came in just as I was closing up.

He said he was interested in buying a large, exotic snake. But after a while it was HIS snake that I started to show an interest in!

I noticed a bulge developing in his trousers as he seemed to be getting more and more turned on by my sales patter.

I was getting a bit excited myself, so I told him the best thing to do would be for me to show him a few reptiles.

I led him to my back room, but I guess he must have twigged what I had in mind.

Thrusting

As soon as I'd closed the door behind us, he unzipped his pants and brought out the most amazing trouser-snake I've ever seen.

It must have been at least 10 inches long and a good three inches in girth.

I bent over a table and he was soon thrusting away at me with his monster cock.

I could feel an orgasm welling up inside me as he pounded away and I let out a squeal of delight as my dam burst.

He promised he'd come back the next day to pick up his pet snake – but he never returned.

Do you think I put him off by making myself such an easy lay?

HG, east Yorkshire

Tess says...

He sounds like a bit of a slippery character.

Dear Tess,

ME and the missus used to enjoy what we called a "normal" sex-life.

I was the dominant one and she loved acting submissive.

She would dress up for me and play the slave to my strict master and dutifully obey my orders.

I made the most of it and would have her sucking my cock as often as I wanted.

But sadly, that's all changed.

She now works full-time as an accountant and earns quite a bit of dosh.

This means we're quite well-off, despite the fact that I was made redundant a few months ago.

This is where everything turned to rat shit for me.

Because once my wife knew I had plenty of time on my hands, she started to lay down the law at home – and now SHE'S the dominant one.

First, she made a list of my household duties.

And incredibly, she also came up with a list of SEXUAL SERVICES that she demands I perform to order.

I have to tease her fanny before going to work on her clit with my tongue.

Then, after a bit of a nap, she demands oral sex all over again – AND a good shafting to boot!

This is leaving me a mental and physical wreck. What can I do?

DM, Glasgow

Tess says...

STOP being her bitch!

THOMPSON

DISHY Dani Thompson has spoken about the day she got a VERY naughty tweet.

The Norwich model revealed: "I get lots of messages from fans and readers, which is great. I try to reply if I can, but sometimes there are just too many or I don't have enough time because of work commitments.

"One guy really caught my eye, though. He Tweeted something in French, which I didn't understand, so I asked him to do it in English."

The 34E cracker added: "Instead of a message he sent some pictures. The first one was his head, the next his torso, and the next was of his privates! He'd written the message on his body parts, and it said, 'I want to meet you'.

"I thought it was quite sweet, so after chatting online with him for a couple of weeks, we met up.

"The photo of his cock certainly told the truth – he was huge down below, and he also knew how to use it.

"Whoever invented Twitter should get a bloody award!"

Incredible comeback for Mullins' Aintree flop

HAVING made it no further than The Chair in the Grand National at Aintree on Saturday, Mr Incredible is set to make a swift reappearance as part of Willie Mullins' assault on this weekend's Scottish Grand National meeting at Ayr.

The victory of I Am Maximus in the world's most famous steeplechase put Mullins in pole position in the race to be crowned Britain's champion trainer in less than a fortnight's time, and the Closutton team are keen to press home their advantage by sending a formidable squad to Scotland.

Mullins has made 33 entries across this weekend's eight-race card, with six standing their ground for the £200,000 main event.

Patrick Mullins, assistant to his father, said: "We had a good look at what we could enter and what could be competitive and what races were worth nice money. We'll definitely be doing our very best after the position we find ourselves in now."

"We've just got to find the right horses for the right races. Obviously Punchestown is very high in our thoughts as well."

"We were in a very similar position eight years ago and Paul Nicholls came back and beat us, so we're not taking anything for granted just yet."

The sponsors make the Mullins-trained Fairhouse scorer Macdermott their 6-1 favourite for the Scottish National, with Mr Incredible's odds slashed to 8-1 from 16-1 after he was left in the race.

The talented but not entirely predictable eight-year-old was slow to start at Aintree, was impeded by the fall of the loose Corach Rambler at the second fence and then again by Mahler Mission when eventually unseating his rider at the 15th.

Mullins said: "He started slowly and only did a lap before he came down, so he didn't exert himself too much. He'll probably take his chance again on Saturday."

"He actually jumped The Chair perfectly and ran into the back of a horse that made a mistake."

"He didn't get a great start and nothing went right. It's a huge step up in class for Macdermott, but he has always looked a staying chaser and the extended trip should bring out the best in him."

IT'S GOING DOWN TO THE WIR

THRILLING FIGHT FOR TOP FLIGHT

Ipswich, Leicester, Leeds and Saints all battle for a place in the promised land

THE battle for automatic promotion to the Premier League took a series of fresh twists over the weekend as the contenders endured differing fortunes.

Leaders Ipswich, second-placed Leicester and Leeds in third are separated by just two points with the Foxes having played a game fewer, while Southampton, who have two matches in hand on both the Tractor Boys and United, lie six points further back.

It couldn't be much closer and there are bound to be more exciting twists and turns before the end of the season.

Here, Midweek Sport takes a close look at the remaining weeks of an increasingly tense Championship run-in...

IPSWICH (1ST, PLAYED 43, 89 POINTS, +32 GOAL DIFFERENCE)

RUN-IN: HULL (A), COVENTRY (A), HUDDERSFIELD (H).

Ipswich's unlikely tilt at back-to-back promotions has hit the buffers in recent weeks after a remarkable run of nine wins in 10 Championship outings was brought to an end by derby rivals Norwich.

A 1-0 defeat at Carrow Road on April 6 has been followed by home draws with Watford and Boro and Town must rediscover the form which earned manager Kieran McKenna Championship Manager of the Season on Sunday evening if they are to reach the top flight.

However, all three of their remaining opponents still have something to play for with Hull and Coventry on the fringes of the play-off race and Huddersfield battling desperately to avoid the drop.

LEICESTER (2ND, PLAYED 42, 88 POINTS, +41 GOAL DIFFERENCE)

RUN-IN: WEST BROM (H), SOUTHAMPTON (H), PRESTON (A), BLACKBURN (H).

Once seemingly certain to return to the top flight after a single season in the wilderness – Enzo Maresca's side were 17 points clear of Leeds – Leicester have suffered a crisis of confidence just at the wrong time.

A 2-1 home defeat by Middlesbrough on February 17 launched a run of 10 league games culminating in Friday night's 1-0 reverse at Plymouth which has seen them lose six times and collect just 10 of the 30 points available.

Their fate, however, remains in their own hands and with three of their last four fixtures taking place at the King Power Stadium – perhaps the most significant of them Saints' visit next week – they will hope they can make home advantage count.

LEEDS (3RD, PLAYED 43, 87 POINTS, +42 GOAL DIFFERENCE)

RUN-IN: MIDDLESBROUGH (A), QPR (A), SOUTHAMPTON (H).

Like the two clubs immediately above them in the table, Leeds have suffered a wobble at the most inopportune moment.

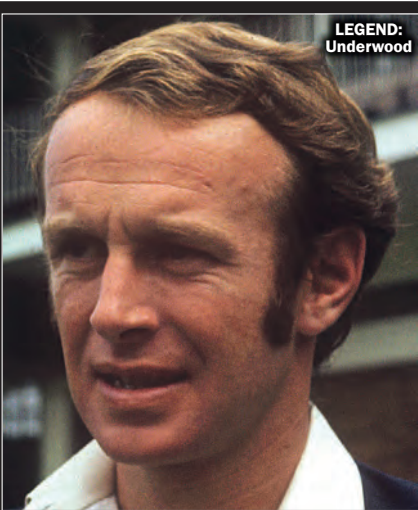

The 2-1 defeat at Coventry on April 6 was their first in the league since the turn of the year and having seen Sunderland leave Elland Road with a point three days later, Daniel Farke's men lost on home soil for the first time this season on Saturday when Sammie Szmodics fired Blackburn to victory in West Yorkshire.

Monday's trip to Middlesbrough is followed by another away fixture at QPR before Southampton head north for a final-day clash which could have a major say in the promotion race.

E IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP

TOP TUSSELE: Ipswich and Leicester are fighting to get into the Premier League

LEGEND: Underwood

Derek really was 'deadly' with the ball

DEREK Underwood, one of Test and first-class cricket's all-time leading wicket-takers, has died aged 78.

Underwood, who retired in 1987 and played his last Test in 1982, is sixth among Test wicket-takers for England and is leading spinner on that list.

He also ranks 14th all-time for first-class wickets and here, Midweek Sport looks at his career record.

FIRST-CLASS RECORD

Underwood took 2,465 first-class wickets in a 25-year career with Kent and England spanning 676 matches.

That ranks him comfortably inside the top 20 in the game's history, while his wickets came at an average of 20.28.

While that excellent mark is actually bettered by most of those ahead of him, on a list headed by fellow slow left-arter Wilfred Rhodes' 4,204 wickets at 16.72, Underwood's economy rate of 2.14 runs an over is the best of the spinners in that group and trails only Derek Shackleton and Maurice Tate.

He took 100 wickets in his debut first-class season in 1963 – becoming the youngest bowler to do so, only turning 18 in June of that summer.

Nicknamed "Deadly", he had career-best figures of nine for 28 and was noted for match-winning spells – particularly on damp pitches, such as his seven for 50 in a 1968 Test against Australia at the Oval and eight for nine against Sussex.

Though not noted for his batting, he recorded a solitary first-class century in 1984, aged 39. Sussex were again the opponents as he nudged his way to 111 in a tied game. He added just two half-centuries in 710 innings.

A further 411 matches in List A cricket, with 572 wickets at 19.40, took him beyond 1,000 matches and 3,000 wickets in his career.

ENGLAND RECORD

No other England spinner has taken as many Test wickets as Underwood's 297, in 86 games between 1966 and 1982.

His wickets came at an average of 25.84, with his best innings and match figures both coming against Pakistan in August 1974 with eight for 51 in the second innings and 13 for 71 in the match.

James Anderson and Stuart Broad have broken new frontiers for England, with 700 and 604 wickets respectively, but only three other bowlers have exceeded Underwood's tally.

Lord Ian Botham took 383 between 1977 and 1992, Bob Willis took 325 and Fred Trueman 307.

Graeme Swann is Underwood's nearest challenger among England spinners, taking his 255 wickets in just 60 matches but at an average over four runs higher than Underwood's.

Underwood ranks 38th on the all-time Test wicket list and is in the top 10 among spinners, a list headed by Sri Lanka great Muttiah Muralitharan's record 800 and Shane Warne's 708 for Australia.

Anil Kumble took 619 for India, Australia's Nathan Lyon and India's Ravichandran Ashwin are over 500 and Rangana Herath and Harbhajan Singh broke the 400 barrier. Daniel Vettori (362) and Lance Gibbs (309) are the others ahead of Underwood.

In India, Underwood edges out Australia's Richie Benaud as the leading visiting spinner with 54 wickets.

Underwood also played 26 one-day internationals, taking 32 wickets at 22.93 with a best of four for 44 against the West Indies.

SOUTHAMPTON (PLAYED 41, 81 POINTS, +27 GOAL DIFFERENCE)

RUN-IN: PRESTON (H), CARDIFF (A), LEICESTER (A), STOKE (H), LEEDS (A).

Southampton's bad patch arrived in February, when they lost to Bristol City, Hull and Millwall either side of a 2-0 success at West Brom in the space of 12 days.

A run of four wins and only one defeat in their last seven games, including Saturday's last-gasp 3-2 victory over Watford, has edged them back into the hunt, but points on the board in the latter stages of a season are precious and Saints are playing catch-up.

Russell Martin's men face difficult trips to Leicester and Leeds, but their cause will be forlorn if they slip up in theoretically less taxing encounters with Preston, Cardiff and Stoke.

TOP TIPS FOR ALL TODAY'S RACING

DANCE SEQUENCE (right)

DANCE KNOWS ALL THE MOVES

By MIKE FRANCIS

DANCE SEQUENCE can book her 1,000 Guineas ticket with victory in the Lanwades Stud Nell Gwyn Stakes at Newmarket.

The daughter of Dubawi won each of her two juvenile starts, triumphing over seven furlongs on the July course before adding a Group Three victory in the Oh So Sharp Stakes on the Rowley Mile in August.

While she only beat Skellett a neck on that occasion, her performance can be upgraded as she had a lengthy absence between her two starts and looked a bit inexperienced in the middle part of the race before running on the final furlong to great effect.

Contender

Trainer Charlie Appleby did not enjoy a stellar campaign by his own high standards in 2023, but he has started this year in fine form and Dance Sequence appears his leading three-year-old filly at this stage.

Narkez is a fascinating contender for Andre Fabre in the bet365 Feilden Stakes. He got within two lengths of leading French 2000 Guineas hope and fellow Nurlan Bizakov-owned colt Ramadan last term, with that one impressing with his Prix de Fontainebleau win.

WILLIAM BUICK

Narkez opened the current campaign with a six-and-a-half-length verdict over a mile on heavy ground at Saint-Cloud last month, so this nine-furlong trip should hold few fears for a colt with a solid middle-distance pedigree.

Embesto is the choice in the bet365 Earl Of Sefton Stakes after making huge strides last term.

Roger Varian's charge won his first two starts, winning by six lengths in a Yarmouth maiden on his racecourse debut before following up with a cosy novice victory at Doncaster in June.

Upped to Listed company subsequently, he found an on-form Nostrum too good at Newmarket but while that rival disappointed after, Embesto raised his game to a new level when dead-heating in a Salisbury Group Three with Mighty Ulysses.

A further inching up to Group Two level in France only narrowly failed to pay dividends as he was beaten just under three lengths in the Prix Daniel Wildenstein, looking as though a move up from a mile would be to his liking.

Varian lets him loose over an extra furlong here and Embesto can thrive.

Battle

Sail Away can strike an important blow for Dan Skelton in the Matt Hampson Foundation Silver Trophy Handicap Chase at Cheltenham.

The trainer is involved in a thrilling battle for the trainers' title and having lost valuable ground to Willie Mullins at Aintree on Saturday, the near £40,000 first prize on offer for this Grade Two would certainly cut into the deficit.

Last seen coming home fourth in the Grade One Ascot Chase, Sail Away posted a career best with that performance, albeit he came home 10 and a half lengths behind the winner, Pic D'Orhy.

An unchanged mark of 142 makes him an attractive prospect here with better spring ground a plus for him.

Peaky Boy was a winner at Prestbury Park on New Year's Day and can make a winning return to the track in the Citipost Novices' Hurdle.

He beat Champagne Twist by five lengths on that occasion, with the runner-up having gone on to win the EBF Final at Sandown.

Now the Nicky Henderson team are back in form, Peaky Boy looks a likely type.

TITLE IS NOT CITY'S JUST YET

ON TOP: City are ahead of Liverpool

MAN City, Arsenal and Liverpool are locked in a thrilling three-way battle for the Premier League title with just six games to go.

Pep Guardiola's reigning champions sit two points clear at the top after their rivals slipped up at the weekend, with Mikel Arteta's Gunners and Jurgen Klopp's Reds separated only by goal difference.

Here, Midweek Sport looks at the top-flight run-in and what promises to be a dramatic finale.

fourth year in a row and chasing back-to-back trebles after another stellar season so far.

A perfect weekend for Guardiola's side, which included a 5-1 thrashing of Luton, put those quests back on track.

City are unbeaten since December, dropping just eight points from a possible 51 during that time.

Star striker Erling Haaland may not have hit the heights of his debut season but is still the division's leading scorer, while Kevin De Bruyne's return to fitness following an injury-hit spell has provided a timely boost.

City, who are preparing for Wednesday's Champions League quarter-final second leg against Real Madrid, are now odds-on favourites for title glory and, according to Guardiola, thriving under the pressure.

Arsenal are at risk of experiencing deja vu. The Gunners topped the table for much of last season before falling away in the final weeks. Arteta's men were unbeaten in 2024 – winning 10 of 11 league fixtures – before Sunday's damaging 2-0 home defeat to Aston Villa saw them surrender first place.

Arsenal face arguably the toughest run-in of the three contenders. After playing their Champions League quarter-final second leg away to Bayern Munich on Wednesday, they still have to face London rivals Chelsea and Tottenham and take on Manchester United at Old Trafford.

Manager Arteta is fortunate to have few injury issues and will be desperate to prevent a campaign which promised so much fizzling out.

Reds boss Klopp is reliant on favours from elsewhere to enjoy a fairytale end to his nine-year Anfield reign following a shock home defeat to Crystal Palace. Aside from game week 28, Liverpool led the division for more than three months between Boxing Day and early April before losing momentum. The 19-time English champions, who this week travel to Italy seeking to overturn a 3-0 aggregate deficit against Atalanta in the last eight of the Europa League, have three successive away matches coming up, including a Merseyside derby at Goodison Park. Klopp knows his side can afford few, if any, further wobbles if he is to add to the top-flight title won in 2020 before moving on in the summer.

PALMER BUZZING FOR BLUES

By ANDY MILLOM

COLE Palmer is grateful for the opportunity Chelsea gave him to join the club after he celebrated successive home hat-tricks when he scored four times in the Blues' 6-0 win over Everton.

The Man City academy graduate, who joined the Blues last summer, scored a spectacular individual goal to open the scoring.

Palmer scored a header and added a third after a Jordan Pickford error before converting a penalty in the second half. It was Palmer's second home triple in a row, following his three goals against Manchester United earlier this month.

Palmer said: "To make the decision to come to Chelsea was a big one but I just wanted to play football. I'm thankful to Chelsea for the opportunity and I'm buzzing."

"We started well and to score a hat-trick, I'm buzzing. I think the team needed that after last Sunday. We did well tonight. It was a great game for the team and me."

Palmer showed skill for his first goal after he jinked past Jarrad Branthwaite, receiving a flick-on from Jackson before he produced a first-time curled effort from outside the box into the bottom left-hand corner.

The 21-year-old added: "My first one was my favourite. As an attacker, you always want to help the team with goals and assists, but my main focus was playing well and trying to get into the positions to score goals."

Manager Mauricio Pochettino heaped praise on Palmer, who is now joint top in the Premier League's Golden Boot race with Erling Haaland on 20 goals each.

He said: "I don't judge the player when we sign (them) but I expected the best. It doesn't surprise us, he's a player who has had the capacity to score goals when he was playing at Manchester City. He has the capacity to score easily."

"The way he's adapted, playing and performing is fantastic. He behaves like a top scorer and I think it's amazing for the team and him."

Red Robbo not giving up on title comeback

ANDY Robertson vowed to keep fighting after Liverpool lost more ground in the title race.

The Reds, who topped the Premier League a fortnight ago, have slipped to third after two damaging results.

Following on from a frustrating draw at Manchester United, Jurgen Klopp's side suffered a shock 1-0 defeat at the hands of Crystal Palace on Sunday.

The blow was softened a little as second-placed Arsenal were also beaten later in the day, but Liverpool still trail favourites Manchester City by two points with six games remaining.

Robertson said: "This group of lads will never stop fighting."

"It's hugely frustrating to be in the position we're in now, being third and relying on two teams dropping points."

"This time last week, we shouldn't have been in that position. That's where the frustration comes from."

"But that's where we are, it is what it is. We need to be perfect from here on in, that's for sure. We can't drop any more points and let's see what the other two teams do."

The Palace loss, secured by Eberechi Eze's 14th-minute strike, capped a dismal week for Liverpool in which they were also thrashed 3-0 by Atalanta in the first leg of their Europa League quarter-final.

They now head to Italy for the second leg on Thursday before Premier League away games at Fulham, Everton and West Ham.

"We have to stay positive," said left-back Robertson, who produced a superb goal-line clearance to prevent Liverpool falling 2-0 behind soon after Eze's opener.

"We have to pick everyone up in the changing room because there's a lot of people who are down, whether they missed a chance, gave the ball away or whatever it is."

"We pick up, we go again on Thursday and we give everything we've got."

Palace's victory – only their second under new manager Oliver Glasner – eased their fears of getting dragged into the relegation battle.

The Eagles, in 14th, now have an eight-point cushion over 18th-placed Luton and have a game in hand over most of the teams below them.

Rice hungry to bounce back at Bayern

DECLAN RICE believes a Champions League quarter-final clash with Bayern Munich is the "perfect" game for Arsenal to overcome defeat to Aston Villa.

The Gunners were deservedly beaten 2-0 by Unai Emery's men at the Emirates on Sunday as Leon Bailey and Ollie Watkins scored the goals to boost Villa's top-four hopes.

Arsenal would have returned to the ummit with a win but now sit second, two points behind reigning champions Manchester City.

There is no time for Mikel Arteta's players to lick their wounds, as they travel to Germany for the second leg of their finely-poised Champions League quarter against Bayern.

A 2-2 draw in north London last week leaves the tie on a knife-edge and Rice feels such a big game is what Arsenal need after a slip-up.

"It's the perfect game for a reaction," he said.

"We need a reaction on Wednesday night and it is a great chance to show our character and leadership. It's time to go out there and hopefully get into the semi-finals of the Champions League.

"We have to park this to the side now. It's gone, it's a game of football. We've lost but we need to bounce back, that's for sure."

"Going to the Allianz Arena, it's going to be a special night. It's time to pull our socks up and show everyone why we're in this position."

"We're gutted and disappointed we've lost a massive game but, it's time for a reaction."

Deadlock

"We've been on such an amazing run since January, won so many football matches and got ourselves back into an unbelievable position after being written off at Christmas."

This was former Arsenal boss Emery's first trip back to the Emirates Stadium as Villa manager and the Spaniard severely dented the title charge of his old club.

Villa had already hit the woodwork through Watkins and Tielemans before substitute Bailey tapped home to break the deadlock late on.

With the hosts pushing for an equaliser, Watkins raced from his own half to latch onto a long ball and double the lead with a deft finish.

The win means fourth-placed Villa opened up a three-point gap on Tottenham in the battle for what looks like being the final Champions League place.

Like Arsenal, they now turn their attention to Europe as they prepare for the second leg of their Europa Conference League quarter-final with Lille, having won at home 2-1.

"I definitely will take confidence from it and I think the team should take a lot of confidence from this game as well," Bailey said of the victory at Arsenal.

"The way we played, coming to the Emirates – I think the way we set out was so strong and I think the team really didn't give up too much and we created opportunities at the same time."

"I think from this, we should really take this game into consideration and give ourselves a lot of confidence moving forward."

SLAVIA PRAGUE 0 ARSENAL 4: Europa League quarter-final, 2020-21

After conceding an added-time equaliser in the home leg, Arteta's Arsenal cruised into the final four with a fine showing at the Sinobo Stadium. Two late goals were enough to give Arsenal a strong lead to take back to north London for the return leg. Martin Odegaard had given the visitors the lead but Youssef El-Arabi levelled before the hour – only for Gabriel Magalhaes and Mohamed Elneny to score in the closing stages.

Another strong home outing in the driving seat as they went to Italy with a 2-0 aggregate lead. An accomplished display, rounded off by a first-half Lacazette goal, completed a job well done for Emery and his players.

PORTO 1 ARSENAL 0: Champions League round of 16, 2023-24

After a seven-year wait to return to the knockout stages of Europe's premier club competition, Arteta's side stalled.

Porto's approach frustrated and restricted Arsenal in equal measures and Galeno's stunning stoppage-time strike then compounded a night to forget in Portugal.

VILLARREAL 2 ARSENAL 1: Europa League semi-final, 2020-21

Emery may have lost his one and only Europa League final as Arsenal boss but he once again proved this was his competition as he led Villarreal to victory over his former side on course to lifting the trophy again.

Manu Trigueros and Raul Albiol had the hosts two goals ahead inside half an hour before Dani Ceballos was sent off for Arsenal. Pepe pulled one back from the penalty spot but a 0-0 draw at the Emirates saw Emery triumph.

ATLETICO MADRID 1 ARSENAL 0: Europa League semi-final, 2017-18

Wenger's final chance to win European silverware as Arsenal manager evaporated with defeat in the Spanish capital. Having been held to a 1-1 draw at home despite Atleti playing with 10 men for 80 minutes, Diego Costa's match-winner in Madrid saw Arsenal eliminated and Wenger's hopes of Europa League glory fade.

BAYERN MUNICH 5 ARSENAL 1: Champions League round of 16, 2016-17

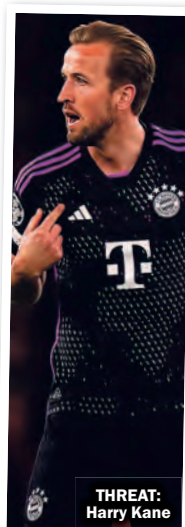

Three goals in 10 second half minutes proved the undoing of Wenger's side in Munich, after Alexis Sanchez had cancelled out Arjen Robben's early effort. Robert Lewandowski and a Thiago Alcantara double took the game beyond the visitors, before Thomas Muller struck late on.

Bayern added insult to injury by repeating the scoreline in the second leg at the Emirates.

BARCELONA 3 ARSENAL 1: Champions League round of 16, 2015-16

Having barely scraped out of their group, Arsenal were handed a lesson by Barcelona, losing the home leg of their tie 2-0.

They travelled to the Nou Camp in hope rather than expectation but were again found wanting. Elneny's fine consolation of little consequence as Neymar, Luis Suarez and Lionel Messi all struck for the hosts.

Toffees will know fate this season

THE Premier League says it will seek to ensure the outcome of Everton's appeal against a two-point penalty is known before the last round of top-flight games on May 19.

Everton were docked points by an independent commission last week for an admitted breach of top-flight profitability and sustainability rules (PSR), and have now formally lodged an appeal.

It means PSR appeal processes involving Everton and Nottingham Forest, who sit just above the Premier League relegation zone in 16th and 17th respectively, are ongoing.

Forest's hearing against a four-point PSR sanction is understood to have been scheduled in the week beginning April 22, and the league has now indicated it will do all it can to ensure Everton's appeal outcome is known heading into the final round of matches.

"Everton Football Club has appealed (against) the decision of an independent commission to impose a two-point deduction on the club following its admission of a breach of the Premier League's profitability and sustainability rules," a league statement read.

"An appeal board has been appointed to hear the case after the club lodged the appeal to the chair of the judicial panel today. The case will be heard on an expedited basis, in accordance with the league's standard directions.

"For clarity and certainty for all clubs and fans, the Premier League will be seeking to have the appeal resolved urgently with the outcome confirmed in advance of Sunday May 19, the last day of this season."

The league's standard directions were agreed by clubs at last summer's Premier League annual general meeting, and their purpose is to ensure PSR case outcomes are known in the same season as any charge is laid, and before Premier League 'shares' change hands between relegated clubs and those coming up from the Championship.

Everton admitted breaching the permitted loss threshold under the PSR by £16.6million for the assessment period ending with the 2022-23 season.

The independent commission which imposed the sanction disclosed in the written reasons for its decision that the Premier League had initially sought a five-point penalty.

This was reduced to two by the commission, after mitigation was taken into account – notably it felt the club were being punished twice in the same overlapping period. In February Everton had a 10-point penalty for an earlier PSR breach, up to the end of the 2021-22 season, reduced to six on appeal.

Everton will now be aiming to achieve a further reduction to the two-point penalty via an appeal.

The commission which issued the two-point penalty will also hold a separate hearing to settle a dispute between the club and the league around costs which Everton say are associated to the construction of their new stadium at Bramley-Moore Dock.

This dispute is not covered by the standard directions, so any sanction imposed in relation to that matter would almost certainly apply next season.

TAV'S UP FOR DUNDEE FIGHT

JAMES Tavernier says Rangers have to shake off the effects of their shock defeat by Ross County to get their title challenge back on track against Dundee.

The Light Blues lost against County for the first time in 25 meetings in Dingwall with the 3-2 loss denting their prospects of overtaking Celtic.

Rangers remain four points behind with a game in hand. "It was really tough but first and foremost we have to earn the right to win games and we didn't do that," said the Rangers skipper.

"We came in after a poor first half, we knew the performance levels could improve tremendously.

"Since the gaffer came in we have been solid defensively but we have to really focus.

"We have to react to every single game and show the fans the performance levels that they know we can put in. Wednesday is a big game and we know we need to rectify it."

We could still lose the LOT says Bernardo

BERNARDO Silva has warned his Manchester City team-mates they have won NOTHING yet.

Most pundits believe the defending champions have the Premier League title in the bag after both Liverpool and Arsenal lost at the weekend.

And City are also on pole position to retain their Champions League and FA Cup titles for another huge treble.

But Silva says all three trophies could slip from their grasp over the next few days.

They take on Real Madrid tonight while Chelsea await in the FA Cup semi-final at Wembley on Saturday.

Silva said: "It was obviously a very good weekend for us.

We weren't expecting both teams to drop points.

"Before we didn't depend on ourselves so we had to do our job and wait for them to drop points. Now the situation has changed a bit because if we do our job properly we win the Premier League.

"You need to be really focused game by game.

"It's not right to start thinking about Trebles because it's not realistic. We have Real Madrid tomorrow, then another tough game against Chelsea in the FA Cup.

"In one week we could lose all three competitions so we need to be really focused to do our job well and extend this hope for one more week and maybe eventually we will do it again.

"Maybe in two weeks it will change again. That's why football is beautiful."
